

that and other uncontrolled ambiguities – different instructors, etc. The +/- policy really addresses students who habitually keep a “life on the edge” approach to classes.