Voting members present:

This or a similar rewording would help students to understand that is not the same as a "C". This is similar to the rewording now proposed for University Regulation.

And while at it, make this change?

B Indicates outstanding work and subject mastery, above the average level of performance

But perhaps this is an opportunity to get rid of the whole 'average' business???

4. NEW BUSINESS

A. MOTION: A student who has completed a baccalaureate degree at U.S. or Foreign regionally accredited institution is considered to have completed UAF's core core requirements.

This was not accepted. Might try again. Might not.

B. SHOULD WE TELL GERC: 'WE DON'T THINK ' DESIGNATORS' IS A GREAT IDEA'??

They apparently got the word: See J. Rosenberg's report of 26 Jan.

C. Core class transferability issues came up at inter-MAU meeting in Anch Jan 2013

BOR POLICY " P10.04.062. General Education Coursework Transfer.

A. The general education requirements for each university and community college will include a common core of course work constructed in part to facilitate transfer of general education credit among the universities and community colleges.

B. A student who has completed the general education requirements at one university system university or community college and transfers to another system university or community college will be considered to have completed the general education requirements at all University of Alaska universities and community colleges

C. A student who has completed some of the general education requirements at one university system university or community college will have those credits count toward fulfillment of the same categories of general education requirements outlined in the common core at all University of Alaska universities and community colleges. This applies even if there is no directly matching coursework at the institution to which the student transfers."

I think the above means 'when you transfer we'll bend over backward to accommodate you but once you're at your new MAU you'll play by the new MAU's rules'. But a real lawyer would probably have a field day with it. Potential application by UAF student: take UAA's Geography 101 by distance delivery. Since it counts for their version of 'perspectives on the human condition' at UAA and since such person took it from UAA, that person automatically gets it to count towards perspectives at UAF. I PROPOSE TO CLARIFY THIS.

Motion: A UAF student cannot use a class taken at another MAU while at UAF to count towards the UAF core requirements unless that course is directly equivalent to the UAF required core course .

Subsequent discussions with Dana Thomas indicate such would violate BOR regulations....oh, well...
